

Sahara & Dunes Expedition:

Arrival and Transfer to Andries Adventures

Upon arrival at the airport, you will be picked up and transferred to Andries Adventures, a charming base where you'll enjoy dinner and spend the night. This will give you time to relax and prepare for the upcoming adventure.

Day 1: Almuñécar (Esp) – Antequera (230 km)

leaving the Mediterranean behind as we head into the heart of Andalusia. The route combines secondary roads and dirt tracks through mountains, valleys, and white villages – perfect for getting into the rhythm and enjoying the first taste of adventure. In the afternoon we arrive in Antequera, a key crossroads in southern Spain and the ideal base for this first stage. 📍 Hotel: Finca Eslava A charming Andalusian hotel, well known for its hospitality and traditional cuisine. The perfect place to relax and get ready for the next day.

Day 2: Antequera – Tarifa (255 Km)

From Antequera we ride south towards Tarifa, the closest point to Africa. The route mixes dirt tracks and panoramic roads through mountains and open countryside until the Atlantic Ocean appears on the horizon. Arriving in Tarifa marks the end of the European stage and the real beginning of the adventure towards Morocco and the Sahara. 📍 Hotel: Los Lances Seafront accommodation, ideal for relaxing and making the final preparations before crossing to Africa.

Day 3: Tarifa – Chefchaouen (293 km)

Day three marks the real start of the African adventure. Early in the morning we take the ferry from Tarifa to Ceuta, crossing the Strait of Gibraltar and leaving Europe behind. After border formalities, we enter Morocco and head towards Tetouan, where we begin riding the first Moroccan roads and tracks. From there, we climb into the Rif Mountains, enjoying green landscapes, endless curves, and a completely different atmosphere, until we reach the beautiful blue city of Chefchaouen, one of the most special places in northern Morocco. 📍 Hotel: Cortijo Spa We stay at this peaceful boutique hotel, the perfect place to relax after our first day in Morocco and start feeling the magic of Africa.

Day 4: Chefchaouen to Fès – 206 km

From Chefchaouen, we continue through mountain roads to the historic city of Fès, where you can explore one of the world's oldest medinas, a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Day 5: Fès to Imilchil – 349 km

A long and challenging ride through mountain trails, crossing the rugged Atlas Mountains to reach the remote and picturesque village of Imilchil, renowned for its stunning high-altitude landscapes.

Day 6: Imilchil to Merzouga – 311 km

We descend from the mountains, passing through valleys and reaching Merzouga, at the edge of the Sahara Desert. Experience the transition from green landscapes to desert plains.

Day 7: Merzouga to Merzouga – 188 km

Today, we explore the Erg Chebbi dunes around Merzouga, offering a thrilling day riding through the golden sands of the Sahara Desert. Perfect for honing offroad skills in the iconic desert landscape.

Day 7: Merzouga to Zagora – 232 km

Ride south through desert tracks and mountain passes to Zagora, an ancient desert town that was once a major stop on the caravan routes to Timbuktu.

Day 8: Zagora to Marrakech – 360 km

This long day takes us through the Draa Valley, known for its lush palm groves and kasbahs, and across the Atlas Mountains, ending in the lively city of Marrakech.

Day 9: Marrakech to Beni Mellal (via Ouzoud Waterfalls) – 235 km

We depart Marrakech and head towards Beni Mellal, passing by the famous Ouzoud Waterfalls, one of Morocco's most impressive natural wonders. Enjoy a break at the falls before continuing the journey.

Day 10: Beni Mellal to Rabat – 269 km

Travel from Beni Mellal to Morocco's capital city, Rabat, where you'll explore a mix of modern and historic sites, including its famous medina and coastline.

Day 11: Rabat to Tangier Med (Ferry to Tarifa) – 273 km

On this day, we head back to Tangier Med, where we'll take the ferry across to Tarifa. Enjoy the coastal ride back into Spain and reflect on the incredible journey.

Day 12: Tarifa to Andries Adventures (End of Tour) – 320 km

Our final ride takes us back to Andries Adventures, where you'll conclude the adventure. After a farewell dinner, you'll spend the night before departing for the airport or continuing your travels.
